WWM Website Revamp

Our museum website and store have recently gone through some positive and productive changes.

1. We have added a Media Page that includes periodical publishing about the museum and have started a suggested reading list
2. We are bringing more attention to the Blog that Jack has added for your reading enjoyment, and are inviting you to add your opinions by responding to the blog postings
3. We have added new sporting clays and local guided live bird hunt packages, including the availability of custom packages. All are on the Hunt & Shoot Page
4. We have updated the Events page to include not only upcoming events but have covered recent past events with photos! You may be shown sporting with the WWM!
5. We have added new courses to the museum's Education curriculum, such as, Introduction to Big Game Hunting. The museum now offers 8 courses.
6. We have given the Museum Store a whole new look and added new products. Two of the newest additions are hand made sterling silver turkey and elk pins/tie tacks made by Robert Shamey. We Also have another local artist jumping onboard with the WWM Sam Corey and we will be adding his wildlife sketches soon!
